

Asian Beauty Standard

This project is about using sculpture to show the distorted aesthetic standards of women in Asia. There are a lot of demands on the female form that are prevalent in society today, which creates invisible pressures and distracts people from their vision of natural beauty. Therefore, I want to create a series of sculptures to make people aware and reflect on the perverted aesthetics in our society on women.

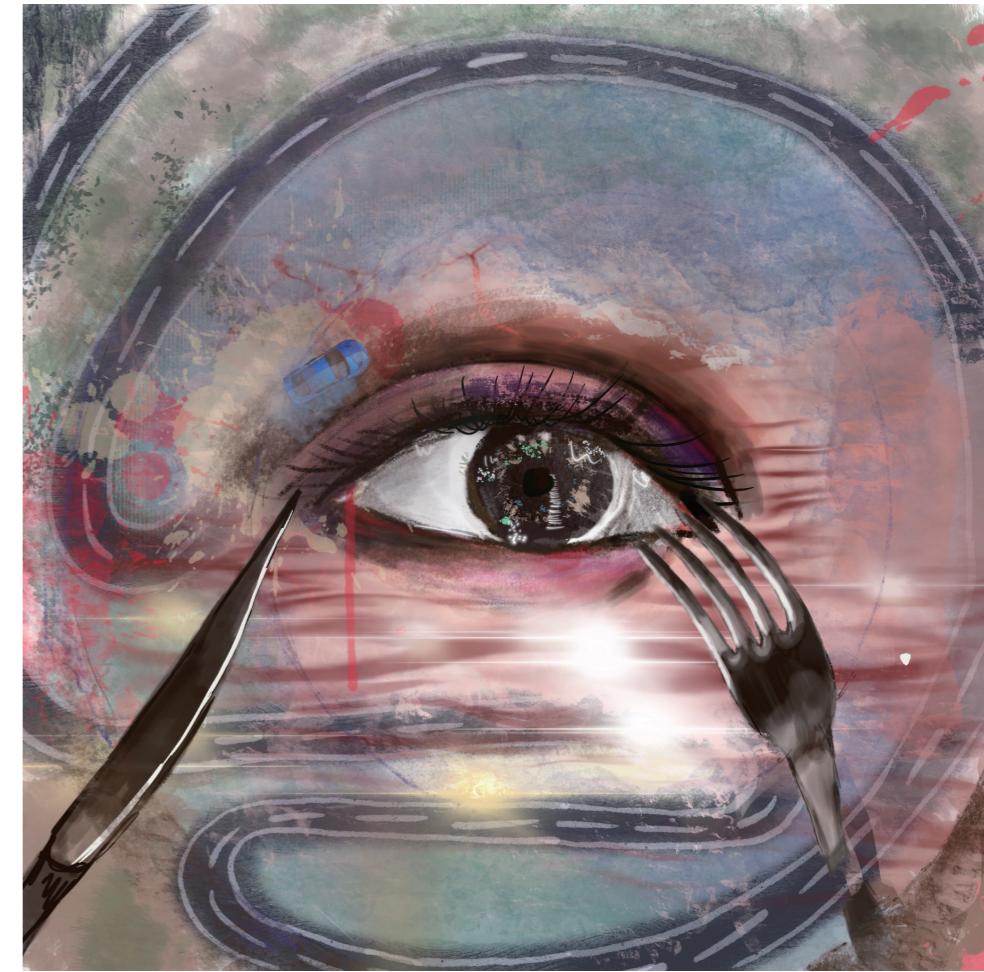

Aesthetics is a very personal and subjective value. Asians' aesthetics has also been influenced by many aspects and gradually developed in an extreme and distorted direction. Especially for women's body shape requirements. The extreme aesthetic value of the public has also caused many Internet celebrities to over-modify their bodies in pursuit of social recognition, and finally appear to be distorted.

I then went online to collect the exaggerated aesthetic standards including both from the history of different countries and those were popular a few years ago.

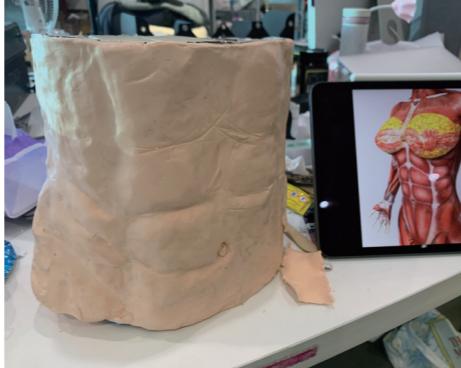

Mind map & Reference

Digital painting

Making process

1. Construct an equivalent model out of cardboard stuffed sponge, around it with wrap paper tape, and cover it with sculpture clay.
2. Modeled according to the musculature of the human body and modified in detail.
3. Blow drying with a heat gun to set the shape.
4. Coloring after drying and then use resin to make the pupil part, the gold fish and the pond.

Belly Button Challenge

"Can you touch your belly button by reaching behind your back and around your waist?"

Double Eyelid Road

"Thanks for the double eyelid surgery, now my eyes are big enough."

The Goldfish Lives In the Collarbone.

"I can keep a goldfish in my collarbone groove, who else can?"

